WASHINGTON : 1997

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

THE WHITE HOUSE, May 5, 1997.

To the Senate of the United States:

With a view to receiving the advice and consent of the Senate to ratification, I transmit herewith the Agreement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of Hong Kong on Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters, with Annex, signed in Hong Kong on April 15, 1997 (hereinafter referred to as "the Agreement"). I transmit also, for the information of the Senate, a related exchange of letters, with attached forms, signed the same date, and the report of the Department of State with respect to the Agreement.

The Agreement is one of a series of modern mutual legal assistance treaties that the United States is negotiating in order to counter criminal activities more effectively. The Agreement should be an effective tool in our continued cooperation with Hong Kong after its reversion to the sovereignty of the People's Republic of China on July 1, 1997, to assist in the prosecution of a wide variety of modern criminals, including members of drug cartels, "white-collar" criminals, and terrorists. The Agreement is self-executing.

The Agreement provides for a broad range of cooperation in criminal matters. Mutual assistance available under the Agreement includes: (1) taking evidence, testimony, or statements of persons; (2) providing information, documents, records, and items; (3) locating or identifying persons or items; (4) serving documents; (5) transferring persons in custody and others to provide assistance; (6) executing requests for search and seizure; (7) confiscating and forfeiting the proceeds and instrumentalities of crime and otherwise assisting in relation thereto; (8) delivering property, including lending exhibits or other items; and (9) any other form of assistance not prohibited by the law of the Requested Party.

I recommend that the Senate give early and favorable consideration to the Agreement and give its advice and consent to ratification so that the Agreement can enter into force no later than July 1, 1997, when Hong Kong reverts to the sovereignty of the People's Republic of China.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON.

LETTER OF SUBMITTAL

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, April 21, 1997.

The PRESIDENT,
The White House.

THE PRESIDENT: I have the honor to submit to you the Agreement between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of Hong Kong on Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters with Annex ("the Agreement"), signed at Hong Kong on April 15, 1997. I recommend that the Agreement be transmitted to the Senate for its advice and consent to ratification. Accompanying the Agreement is a related exchange of letters, with attached forms, signed on April 15, 1997. I recommend that these letters be transmitted for the information of the Senate.

The Agreement covers mutual legal assistance in criminal matters. In recent years, similar bilateral treaties have entered into force with a number of other countries. This Agreement contains many provisions similar to other treaties in this area.

Upon entry into force, this Agreement will enhance our ability to investigate, prosecute, and variety of offenses, including violent crimes, drug trafficking, money laundering, alien smuggling and tax fraud and other white-collar crimes. For narcotics-related crime, it will supersede an Agreement between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of Hong Kong Concerning the Confiscation and Forfeiture of the Proceeds and Instrumentalities of Drug Trafficking done at Hong Kong November 23, 1990, which expires on June 30, 1997.

Although entitled an "agreement" to reflect Hong Kong's unique juridical status, for purposes of United States law, the instrument will be considered to be a treaty and, thus, is hereby submitted to you for transmittal to the Senate for advice and consent to ratification. In that regard, I note that Hong Kong is entering into this Agreement with the authorization of "the sovereign government which is responsible for its foreign affairs." At present, that is the United Kingdom. However, the People's Republic of China, through the Sino-British Joint Liaison Group, has also approved this Agreement, as well as the related exchange of letters and forms, and authorized its continuation in force after July 1, 1997. The Agreement is designed to be self-executing and will not require implementing legislation.

Article 1 contains a non-exhaustive list of the major types of assistance to be provided under the Agreement, including taking evidence, testimony or statements of persons; providing information, documents, records and items; locating or identifying persons or items; serving documents; transferring persons in custody and others to provide assistance; executing requests for search and seizure; confiscating and forfeiting the proceeds and instrumentalities of crime and otherwise assisting in relation thereto; delivering property, including lending exhibits or other items; and any other form of assistance not prohibited by the law of the Requested Party. The scope of the Agreement includes not only criminal offenses, but also proceedings related to criminal matters, which may be civil or administrative in nature except as to certain revenue matters enumerated in paragraph (3). The article makes clear that the Agreement is designed to be utilized only by governmental authorities who seek evidence for use in criminal investigations and prosecutions and proceedings related to criminal proceedings. The Agreement is not intended to create any right in a private person to seek, suppress or exclude evidence.

Article 2 provides for the establishment of Central Authorities and specifies that, for the United States, the Central Authority is the Attorney General or a person duly authorized by the Attorney General. For Hong Kong, the Central Authority is the Attorney General of Hong Kong or a person duly authorized by the Attorney General. The Central Authorities shall communicate directly between each other for purposes of the Agreement.

Article 3 sets forth circumstances under which the Requested Party shall or may deny assistance under the Agreement. A request shall be denied if it impairs the sovereignty, security, or public order of the United States or the sovereign government responsible for the foreign affairs relating to Hong Kong, which, after revision on July 1, 1997, will be the People's Republic of China; or if the Central Authority is of the opinion that granting the request would impair the Requested Party's essential interests or that the request for assistance relates to a political offense or that there are substantial grounds for believing the request was made for the purpose of prosecuting, punishing, or otherwise proceeding against a person on account of the person's race, religion, nationality, or political opinions.

Article 3(1)(d) provides that the Central Authority shall refuse assistance if it is of the opinion that the acts or omissions alleged to constitute the criminal offense would not have constituted a criminal offense if they had taken place within the jurisdiction of the Requested Party, or, irrespective of that analysis, would not constitute in the Requesting Party any of the offenses described in the Annex to the Agreement. Thus, for offenses described in the Annex, assistance must be provided without regard to whether the offense would constitute an offense under the laws of the Requested Party.

Finally, the Central Authority is permitted to deny assistance if the request relates to an offense under military law that would not be an offense under ordinary criminal law, the request relates to the prosecution of a person for a criminal offense for which the person has been convicted or acquitted in the Requested Party, or the request is not made in conformity with the Agreement.

Before denying assistance under Article 3, the Central Authority of the Requested Party is required to consult with its counterpart in the Requesting Party to consider whether assistance can be given subject to such conditions as it deems necessary. If the Re-requesting Party accepts assistance subject to conditions, it shall comply with the conditions. If the Central Authority of the Requested Party refuses assistance, it shall inform the Central Authority of the Requesting Party of the reasons for the refusal.

Article 4 prescribes the form and content of written requests under the Agreement, specifying in detail the information required in each request. The article permits oral requests in urgent cases but requires written confirmation promptly thereafter. The article specifies further information to be provided to the extent necessary and possible to assist in locating individuals and effecting particular types of assistance. All requests and supporting documents are to be provided in an official language of the Requested Party.

Article 5 requires the Central Authority of the Requested Party to execute promptly a request, or to arrange for its execution through its competent authorities. The competent authorities of the Requested Party are to use their best efforts to execute a request. The courts of the Requested Party shall have the authority to issue subpoenas, search warrants, or other orders necessary to execute the request.

Requests are to be executed as empowered by this Agreement or by applicable law; the method of execution specified in the request is to be followed except to the extent that it is not incompatible with the law of the Requested Party. If the Central Authority of the Requested Party determines that execution of the request would interfere with an ongoing criminal investigation or proceeding, it may postpone execution or, after consultations with the Requesting Party, impose conditions on such execution. If the Requesting Party accepts assistance subject to such conditions, it shall comply with them.

Article 5 further requires the Requested Party, if so requested, to use its best efforts to keep confidential a request and its contents, and to inform the Requesting Party if the request cannot be executed without breaching confidentiality so that the Requesting Party can then determine whether the request should nevertheless be executed.

Article 6 apportions between the two Parties the costs incurred in executing a request. Generally, the Requested Party pays all ordinary costs relating to the execution of the request, except for the fees of experts and of counsel retained at the request of the Requesting Party, travel expenses and allowances for the travel of persons traveling at the request of the Requesting Party (e.g., pursuant to Articles 11 or 12), and the costs of transcription, translation and interpretation. If it is apparent that expenses of an extraordinary nature will be required to fulfill the request, the Parties are to consult to determine the conditions under which the execution of the request may continue.

Article 7 provides that the Central Authority of the Requested Party may require that any information or evidence obtained under the Agreement be kept confidential or be used only subject to specified conditions, including that it not be used for investigations, proceedings, or prosecutions other than those described in the request without the prior consent of the Requested Party. If the Requested Party requests that information or evidence furnished be kept confidential or be used in accordance with conditions specified by its Central Authority, the Requesting Party is required to comply with the conditions specified. This does not, however, preclude the use or disclosure in a criminal proceeding of information or evidence to the extent required for the United States under its Constitution or for Hong Kong under its law. If information is made public in the Requesting Party in accordance with the Agreement, no further limitations on use apply.

VIII

Article 8 obligates the Requested Party, upon request, to endeavor to obtain a statement of a person for the purpose of an investigation, prosecution, or proceeding related to a criminal matter, with the consent of the person.

Article 9 provides that the Requested Party shall compel, if necessary, the taking of testimony or production of documents or other evidence in its territory on behalf of the Requesting Party and shall, upon request, inform the Requesting Party in advance of the date and place of the taking of testimony.

Article 9 also requires the Requested Party to permit the presence of any persons specified in the request (such as the accused, counsel for the accused, or other interested persons) and, to the extent permitted by its law, to permit such persons to question the person whose testimony is being taken. In the event that a person whose testimony or evidence is being taken asserts a claim of immunity, incapacity, or privilege under the laws of the Requested Party, it is to be resolved pursuant to the Requested Party's laws. If such claim is made under the laws of the Requesting Party, the testimony or evidence shall be taken and the claim made known to the Requesting Party for resolution by its authorities.

Finally, Article 9(6) provides that the Requesting Party may ask that evidence that is produced pursuant to this article or is the object of testimony under this article be certified in accordance with procedures specified in the request and that, if so certified, such evidence shall be admissible in evidence in the Requesting Party as proof of the truth of the matters set forth therein. Letters signed and exchanged between the Parties at the time of the signing of the Agreement on April 15, 1997, and included herewith for the information of the Senate, set forth the understanding of the Parties that those letters and forms attached thereto serve to establish the procedures for application of this article and of Articles 10(3) and 16(3) of the Agreement. Where the Government of the United States requests that copies of business records be certified under Article 9(6) of the Agreement, it will request the use of Form A, entitled Certificate of Authenticity of Business Records, attached to the letter. Where the Government of Hong Kong requests certification under this article, it will request the use, subject to Article 5(3) of the Agreement, of forms forwarded with the request.

Article 10 requires that the Requested Party provide the Requesting Party with copies of publicly available records in the possession of government departments or agencies. The Requested Party may also, in its discretion, provide copies of documents, records or information in the possession of a governmental department or agency in that Party but not publicly available, to the same extent and under the same conditions as it would to its own law enforcement or judicial authorities. Article 10(3) provides that the Requesting Party may ask that official records produced pursuant to this article be certified in accordance with procedures specified in the request and that documents so certified shall be admissible in evidence in the Requesting Party as proof of the truth of the matters set forth therein. Where the Government of the United States requests that copies of Hong Kong documents be certified under this article, it will request the use of Form B entitled Certificate of Authenticity of Foreign Public Documents, included in the April 15, 1997 exchange of letters. Where the Government of Hong Kong requests certification under this article, it will request the use, subject to Article 5(3) of the Agreement, of forms forwarded with the request.

Article 11 provides for the voluntary transfer to one Party of a person in custody in the other Party for purposes of assistance under the Agreement, provided that the person in question and the Central Authorities of both Parties agree. This could occur either in transfers from the Requested Party for assistance such as testimony in a trial or from the Requesting Party to, for example, attend the taking of evidence in the Requested Party. The article establishes the express authority and the obligation of the receiving Party to maintain the person transferred in custody unless otherwise authorized by the sending Party. It further obligates the receiving Party as soon as circumstances permit or as otherwise agreed by both Central Authorities, without the need for extradition proceedings, and provides that the person transferred shall receive credit for time served in the custody of the receiving Party.

Article 12 requires the Central Authority of the Requested Party, upon request, to invite a person not in custody to travel to the Requesting Party to provide assistance and promptly to inform the Requesting Party of the person's response.

Article 13 provides that, unless otherwise specified in the request, a person transferred pursuant to Article 11 or 12 shall not be subject to service of process, or be prosecuted, punished or subjected to any restriction of personal liberty. This "safe conduct" is limited to acts or omissions that preceded the person's departure from the sending Party. For transferred persons not held in custody in the sending Party, any safe conduct provided under this article shall cease 15 days after the person has been notified that his presence is no longer required in the receiving Party or whenever the person voluntarily returns to the receiving Party after leaving it. Further, Article 13 provides that a person providing evidence pursuant to Article 11 or 12 cannot be subject to prosecution based on his testimony except for perjury and shall not be required to provide assistance other than that to which the request relates. Furthermore, refusal to consent to provide assistance under Article 11 or 12 cannot be used as a basis for liability to any penalty or coercive measure by the courts of either Party.

Article 14 requires the Requested Party to endeavor to ascertain the location or identity of any person or item specified in a request.

Article 15 requires the Requested Party to use its best efforts to effect service of any documents transmitted to it pursuant to this Agreement for the purpose of service. The article further requires that any request for the service of a document pertaining to a response or appearance in the Requesting Party be transmitted by the Requesting Party within a reasonable time before the scheduled response or appearance. The Requested Party is required to return proof of service. Article 15 also provides that a person shall not be liable to any penalty or coercive measure for failure to comply with any process served on him under this article unless the person is a national or permanent resident of the United States and the United States is the Requesting Party.

Article 16 obligates the Requested Party to carry out requests for search, seizure and delivery of any item to the Requesting Party if the request includes the information justifying such action under the law of the Requested Party. If requested by the Requested Party, the article further provides for the certification by every official of the Requested Party who has had custody of a seized item of its identity, the continuity of custody, and the integrity of its condition. Any such certificates shall be admissible in evidence in the Requesting Party as proof of the truth of the matters set forth therein. Where the Government of the United States requests such certification, it will request the use of Form C entitled Certificate with Respect to Seized Items, included in the April 15, 1997 exchange of letters. Where the Government of Hong Kong requests certification under this article, it will request the use, subject to Article 5(3) of the Agreement, of forms forwarded with the request. In addition, Article 16 provides that the Requesting Party shall observe any conditions placed on the transfer of the seized items by the Requested Party, e.g., to protect third-party interests in the property.

Article 17 obliges the Central Authority of the Requested Party to return to the Central Authority of the Requesting Party as soon as possible any documents, records, or articles of evidence furnished under the Agreement, if the Requested Party so requires.

Article 18 obligates the Requested Party, upon request, to endeavor to ascertain and notify the Requesting Party whether any proceeds or instrumentalities of a crime against the law of the Requesting Party are located in its jurisdiction and to take measures permitted by its law to prevent any dealing in, transfer or disposal of these suspected proceeds or instrumentalities of crime pending a final determination by a court of the Requesting Party. The request must include the Requesting Party's basis for believing that such items may be located in the Requested Party's jurisdiction. Article 18 also obligates the Parties, upon request, by whatever means are appropriate, to assist one another in providing assistance in securing the confiscation or forfeiture of proceeds or instrumentalities of crime. The article further permits the Parties to agree to share forfeited assets, or the proceeds of their sale, to the extent permitted by applicable laws and upon such terms as may be agreed.

Article 19 requires documents, records, or items transmitted to the Requesting Party to be certified or authenticated only if the Requesting Party so requests. Such certification or authentication is to be performed by consular or diplomatic officers only if required by the law of the Requesting Party.

Article 20 states that the Parties may also provide assistance to each other pursuant to other agreements or to applicable laws, arrangements or practices.

XI

Article 21 provides that the Central Authorities of the Parties shall consult as appropriate to promote the most effective use of this Agreement and may agree on practical measures necessary to facilitate implementation of the Agreement.

Article 22 provides that any disputes arising out of the interpretation, application, or implementation of this Agreement that cannot be resolved by the Central Authorities are to be resolved through diplomatic channels.

Article 23 provides that the Agreement shall enter into force thirty days after the date on which the Parties notify each other in writing that their requirements for the entry into force of the Agreement have been complied with. The Agreement shall apply to requests whether or not the relevant acts or omissions occurred prior to this Agreement's entry into force. In addition, Article 23 allows either Party to terminate the Agreement by giving written notice to the other Party, termination to be effective three months after the date of the receipt of such notice. Requests for assistance that have been received prior to receipt of such notification are to be processed in accordance with the terms of the Agreement as if the Agreement were still in force.

A Technical Analysis explaining in detail the provisions of the Agreement is being prepared by the United States negotiating delegation, consisting of representatives from the Departments of Justice and State, and will be transmitted separately to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

The Department of Justice joins the Department of State in recommending approval of this Agreement by the Senate as soon as possible.

Respectfully submitted,

MADELEINE ALBRIGHT.

April 15, 1997

Dear Mr. Lai:

I write in reference to the Agreement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of Hong Kong on Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters, signed at Hong Kong on April 15, 1997, and in particular to express the understanding of the Government of the United States of America with respect to Articles 9(6), 10(3), and 16(3) of the Agreement.

These three articles provide for evidence obtained under the Agreement to be certified in accordance with procedures specified in the request, and if certified in accordance with such procedures, the evidence shall be admissible in the Requesting Party as proof of the matters stated therein.

During the course of the negotiations, each side achieved a greater understanding and appreciation of the legal principles that are generally applied by the courts of the other in deciding issues dealing with the admission into evidence of various types of documents, records, and items. As a result, representatives of the Governments of Hong Kong and the United States who participated in the negotiation of the Agreement have jointly developed three certificate forms, which are attached to this letter.

Where the Government of the United States requests that copies of business records be certified under Article 9(6) of the Agreement, it will request the use of the form entitled Certificate of Authenticity of Business Records, attached to this letter as Form A. Where the Government of the United States requests that copies of foreign public documents be certified under Article 10(3), it will request the use of the form entitled Certificate of Authenticity of Foreign Public Documents, attached to this letter as Form B. Where the Government of the United States requests that continuity of custody of seized items be certified under Article 16(3), it will request the use of the form entitled Certificate with Respect to Seized Items, attached to this letter as Form C.

Where the Government of Hong Kong requests certification under Article 9(6), 10(3), or 16(3), it will request the use, subject to Article 5(3) of the Agreement, of forms forwarded with the request.

I would appreciate a letter in reply confirming that the understanding described above is also the understanding of the Government of Hong Kong. If that is the case, this letter, with attachments, and your reply will serve to establish the procedures for application of Article 9(6), 10(3) or 16(3) of the Agreement, to be utilized upon entry into force of the Agreement.

Have agreed as follows:

Article 1

(4) This Agreement is intended solely for mutual legal assistance between the Parties, and is not intended or designed to provide such assistance to private parties. A private party may not rely upon any provision of this Agreement to impede the execution of a request, or to exclude or suppress evidence obtained under this Agreement.

Article 2

- (1) Each Party shall establish a Central Authority.
- (2) The Central Authority for the United States of America shall be the Attorney General of the United States or a person duly authorized by the Attorney General. The Central Authority for Hong Kong shall be the Attorney General of Hong Kong or a person duly authorized by the Attorney General.

Article 3

Limitations on Providing Assistance

- (1) The Central Authority of the Requested Party shall refuse assistance if:
- (a) the request for assistance impairs the sovereignty, security, or public order (ordre public) of the United States of America or, in the case of Hong Kong, the sovereign government responsible for the foreign affairs relating to Hong Kong;
 - (b) it is of the opinion that the granting of the request would impair the Requested Party's essential interests;
 - (c) it is of the opinion that the request for assistance relates to a political offence or that there are substantial grounds for believing the request was made for the purpose of prosecuting, punishing, or otherwise proceeding against a person on account of the person's race, religion, nationality, or political opinions; or
 - (d) it is of the opinion that the acts or omissions alleged to constitute the criminal offence would not have constituted a criminal offence if they had taken place within the jurisdiction of the Requested Party, or, irrespective of whether they would have done so, would not constitute in the Requesting Party an offence within any of the descriptions in the Annex to this Agreement.

(2) In considering whether acts or omissions constitute an offence for the purpose of paragraph (1)(d), it shall be irrelevant whether any of those acts or omissions involve interstate transportation or the use of the mails or other facilities affecting interstate or foreign commerce, such matters being merely for the purpose of establishing jurisdiction in a United States federal court.

(3) The Central Authority of the Requested Party may refuse assistance if:

- (a) the request relates to an offence under military law that would not be an offence under ordinary criminal law;
- (b) the request for assistance relates to the prosecution of a person for a criminal offence in respect of which the person has been convicted or acquitted in the Requested Party; or
- (c) the request is not made in conformity with the Agreement.

(4) Before refusing assistance pursuant to this Article, the Central Authority of the Requested Party:

- (a) shall promptly inform the Central Authority of the Requesting Party of the reason for considering refusal; and
- (b) shall consult with the Central Authority of the Requesting Party to determine whether assistance may be given subject to such terms and conditions as the Central Authority of the Requested Party deems necessary.

(5) If the Requesting Party accepts assistance subject to the terms and conditions referred to in paragraph (4)(b), it shall comply with those terms and conditions.

(6) If the Central Authority of the Requested Party refuses assistance, it shall inform the Central Authority of the Requesting Party of the reasons for the refusal.

Execution of Requests

(1) The Central Authority of the Requested Party shall promptly execute the request or arrange for its execution through its competent authorities.

(2) Such authorities shall use their best efforts to execute the request. The Courts of the Requested Party shall have authority to issue subpoenas, search warrants, or other orders necessary to execute the request.

(3) Requests shall be executed as empowered by this Agreement or by applicable law. The method of execution specified in the request shall be followed to the extent that it is not incompatible with the law of the Requested Party.

(4) If the Central Authority of the Requested Party determines that execution of a request would interfere with an ongoing criminal investigation, prosecution, or proceeding in that Party, it may postpone execution, or make execution subject to conditions determined necessary after consultations with the Central Authority of the Requesting Party. If the Requesting Party accepts the assistance subject to the conditions, it shall comply with the conditions.

(5) The Requested Party shall promptly inform the Requesting Party of any circumstances that are likely to cause a significant delay in responding to the request.

(6) The Requested Party shall use its best efforts to keep confidential a request and its contents if such confidentiality is requested by the Central Authority of the Requesting Party. If the request cannot be executed without breaching such confidentiality, the Central Authority of the Requested Party shall so inform the Central Authority of the Requesting Party, which shall then determine whether the request should nevertheless be executed.

(7) The Central Authority of the Requested Party shall respond to reasonable requests by the Central Authority of the Requesting Party on progress toward execution of the request.

(8) The Central Authority of the Requested Party shall promptly inform the Central Authority of the Requesting Party of the outcome of the execution of the request. - 11 -

(d) travel expenses and allowances of persons travelling at the request of the Requesting Party.

Article 7
Limitations on Use

(1) The Central Authority of the Requested Party may require that the Requesting Party not use any information or evidence obtained under this Agreement in any investigation, prosecution, or proceeding other than that described in the request without the prior consent of the Central Authority of the Requested Party. In such a situation, the Requesting Party shall comply with the requirement.

(2) The Central Authority of the Requested Party may request that information or evidence furnished under this Agreement be kept confidential or be used only subject to terms and conditions it may specify. If the Requesting Party accepts the information or evidence subject to such conditions, the Requesting Party shall comply with the conditions.

- 12 -

(3) Nothing in this Article shall preclude the use or disclosure in a criminal proceeding of information or evidence to the extent that there is an obligation to do so for the United States under its Constitution or for Hong Kong under its law. - 17 -

(2) If the request provides for any limitations on the safe conduct referred to in paragraph (1), the person whose presence is requested shall be advised by the Central Authority of the Requested Party of the nature of those limitations.

(3) Paragraph (1) shall not apply if the person, not being a person transferred in custody under Article 11, and being free to leave, has not left the Requesting Party within a period of fifteen days after being notified that his presence is no longer required, or having left the Requesting Party, has returned.
